

The word notion has been changed to structures, which seems to be a better word, but the word Remembering has been retained as correct. The reference is to lines 11 and 12 on the same page.

It is believed that all errors noted by the Examiner have been corrected, and some additional errors noted have also been corrected. Copies of the drawings are attached showing proposed changes in red. Approval of the changes is requested.

If the examiner has any question about the application, or this amendment, a telephone call to the undersigned attorney of record is invited.

Respectfully submitted,
